

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

A Bibliography of South Australia! A colony which, fifty years ago, was a terra incognita—a land previously trodden only by the uncivilised and wandering savage, and consequently without a vestige of a prior history, save what may be found in geological researches, the impressions of nature on its rocks and stones—a land not obtained by exciting wars or conquests by battles, but a history of conquests of wild and uncultivated regions by indomitable British pluck—a simple, peaceful history of the steady progress of British settlement.

Notwithstanding what has been published, the history of South Australia, as well as each of the sister colonies, has yet to be written, and, keeping this object in view, I have catalogued the various works and publications under the several headings which would probably be specially enlarged upon in an extended history of the colony. Two divisions of scientific interest, viz., "Aboriginal Inhabitants" and "Natural History," are included herein. The necessity for a detailed reference to printed matter on Ethnology and the sub-divisions of Natural History was forcibly suggested to me when perusing the learned and able address of Professor Tate, President of the Philosophical Society of Adelaide * for the year 1877-8. The difficulties to be met with in compiling such classified catalogues can be understood only by those whose pursuits have necessitated their performing a similar task. Our Public Library, although rapidly extending, is still very deficient in works of natural history relating to the colony, and the Adelaide University library is also greatly in need of natural history publications.

To Professor Tate I am specially indebted for his valuable assistance and advice in the compilation of the divisions of Natural History; and I have availed myself of the exhaustive catalogue of Messrs. Etheridge & Jack, published in Sydney, when compiling the sub-division Geology—Natural History.

When I accepted the task of compiling, from my own collection of Australian literature, a catalogue of all works relating to this colony, I had no idea of the dimensions the work would assume, or of the labor involved in its compilation. The demand for works confined exclusively to South Australia would have been so limited, that travellers and others have generally embraced the whole or several of the colonies under the heading "Australia," and all those works having reference to the early history and settlement of this colony which have come within the compiler's notice are referred to herein.

Many omissions will no doubt be found in this work, but, bearing in mind the fact that no compilation of a similar kind has before been attempted, and that this has been prepared during leisure hours only, I venture to hope that my efforts will not be too severely criticised. I am satisfied if I have succeeded in establishing a basis upon which some future bibliographer may build a more complete and improved structure.

Excepting under the division "Natural History," the works have been arranged in chronological order, and, to facilitate reference, an alphabetical index of authors is also included herein.

In the Appendix an attempt has been made to furnish a list of all colonial newspapers which have appeared at various times, but it is found impossible to complete the list in detail. As will be observed by a perusal of that division, many newspapers had but an ephemeral existence, and consequently no files of some are known to exist. To Messrs. G. Gerrard Shaw, H. Hampson, and S. E. Roberts I am indebted for much information on this subject.

It is to be regretted that some legislation was not passed in the early days of the colony, enforcing the lodgment in the South Australian Institute of a copy of every colonial publication—work, pamphlet, or newspaper. Owing to the absence of a compulsory law on this subject, we have now to deplore the loss of most valuable information concerning the early detailed history of the colony, and no effort appears to have been made until recent years, by the governing powers of the South Australian Institute to collect or preserve colonial publications. But much omitted herein may still exist in private bookshelves, hoarded up, either through curiosity or on account of old associations. Colonists and others possessing such documents will confer a favor upon the compiler by acquainting him of such fact. The Public Library and the Library of the South Australian Geographical Society would be greatly benefited by donations of any documents antecedent to 1870.

To Sir Henry Ayers, K.C.M.G., Messrs. R. S. Benham (Librarian, Public Library), T. Worsnop, J.P. (Town Clerk), and the proprietors of the South Australian Register and South Australian Advertiser I have to express my thanks for assistance rendered.

I have also to acknowledge the courtesy of the Government Printer and his staff. The tax upon their patience has been considerable, owing to the many months that have elapsed since the first portion of the work was put into type.
